DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

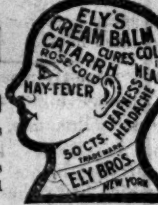

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at night unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 90 percent of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his own experience and varied practice. O. S. Copenhagen, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntington Co., Pa., writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but did not get more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before. Don't be fooled by cheap penny-grabbing dealers into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be 'just as good.'"

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.
To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on a parasitic germ will prosper, in like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.
You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.
You must kill the Dandruff Germ. Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing. When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.
"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamp for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Found $15,000 Brooch.

Mrs. T. Edwin Ward, of New York, is rejoicing over the recovery of a $15,000 diamond brooch, and a man who until yesterday afternoon was a wanderer in the streets is the happy possessor of a $10,000 brooch.

Mrs. Ward and her husband went to the Garrick Theatre Saturday night. She wore among other jewels a brooch which is said to be unique. It consists of three stones set in the shape of a cloveleaf. One is a white diamond, another a brown diamond and the third a brilliant canary-colored stone. Each gem was perfectly matched and of the so-called twentieth century cut. They weighed 23 carats.

After the performance Mr. and Mrs. Ward drove to Rector's for supper. When seated at the table Mrs. Ward discovered that her brooch was missing. Police headquarters was notified and several detectives were sent out on the case. Sunday Mr. Ward advertised a reward of $1,000. The finder was directed to take it to William A. Cleveland, a jeweler.

Yesterday afternoon a man in ragged garments called upon the jeweler and said he had the brooch. He stated that about 5 o'clock Sunday morning, while walking by the Garrick Theatre, he glanced down through an iron grating in the sidewalk and saw something glittering at the bottom of the vault. He hurried to a neighboring saloon and borrowed a piece of soap. Fastening the soap on the end of a long stick he shined for the shining object several minutes before it adhered to the soap. He nearly fainted when he saw what he had caught.

Mr. Cleveland called Mr. Ward on the telephone. Mr. Ward hurried to the shop, and as it was after banking hours, borrowed a $1,000 bill from a friend and exchanged it for the brooch. The man's sister asked where he could get the note changed into small bills. She was advised to keep it as it was and deposit it in a savings bank. The two left, saying they would do as the jeweler advised.

Inauguration Day.

The question that always comes up after inauguration is again being discussed in official circles. That is the changing of the date for holding the inauguration. The death of Senator Bates, on account of exposure on the 4th of March, is a strong argument now among his colleagues for action at this time. What the question has been the subject of much discussion, it will now be brought before the national committee, appointed two years ago by the District of Columbia Commissioners, with the view of having the day for the President to take office changed from March 4 to a time about the last of April, in the most beautiful part of the year in Washington.

Commissioner Macfarland, chairman of the committee, says that he will ask the committee to meet within a month to plan for work to be done before the coming session of Congress.

Four years ago, at the request of the inaugural committee, this committee was appointed, and as a result a resolution was drawn by Senator Hoar and introduced in the Senate to amend the Constitution so as to make the inaugural day the last Thursday in April and lengthen the term of the President to that extent. This was unanimously passed by the Senate, and although strongly supported in the House, the house judiciary committee never reported it back to that body because a majority could not agree upon it. The house committee agreed on the simple proposition to lay the question of change of day to the people of the United States by means of the proposed amendment to the Constitution. But they could not agree as to the beginning and ending of the sessions of Congress. The national committee, seeing these disagreements, saw that Congress could not act in time for the State legislatures to act before the inauguration of 1905, and so it suspended work until now.

Persecuting a Preacher.

Followed for more than a year by a remorseless persecution, Rev. L. D. Cook, pastor of the Methodist Church at Black Creek, Pa., just across the New York State line, has left the place. He accepted the advice of the presiding elder, Rev. Thomas Cardus, at the conclusion of a long investigation by detectives, although he had previously declared that he would not leave, even though his life paid the forfeit.

More than a year ago Mr. Cook's house was burned by secret enemies; then his horse was poisoned, and a letter threatened his life and that of official advisers if he did not leave at once. He was stoned in his pulpit and after he left his church, at one time being knocked senseless. He was compelled to carry arms to defend himself.

Citizens of the village became so wrought up over the matter that a public subscription was taken and detectives employed to discover who the preacher's enemies were and their object. They have just completed their work, but their report is kept a secret.

The presiding elder has now advised

TUESDAY EVENING, MAR. 11, 1906.

AN English school teacher is endeavoring to show that certain passages in President Roosevelt's inaugural address on the 4th instant were plagiarisms from Pericles. The average man is unable to pass judgment in the case, as but few in this age of the world ever read an oration of the illustrious Greek, while a great many more never heard of him. But, apart from these observations, it may be said that it would be difficult to utter anything in this day, when the world is nearly six thousand years old, without substantially repeating something said by some sage centuries before we were born. Socrates and Confucius, it is said, gave out the Golden Rule hundreds of years before the Christian era, but when the Great Teacher reiterated it the injunction had lost none of its lustre, nor will it in the ages to come. The President yesterday in his address before the National Congress of Mothers said some things which can no doubt be found in their embryonic state in literature, notably in the scriptures, but that they are equally as applicable now as they were in the days of the Caesars now will dispute. In his introductory remarks he said:

"The nation is in a bad way if there is no real home, if the family is not of the right kind; if the man is not a good husband and father, if he is brutal or cowardly or selfish, if the woman has lost her sense of duty, if she is sunk in vain self-indulgence or has let her nature be twisted so that she prefers a sterile pseudo-intellectualism to that great beautiful development of character which comes only to those whose lives know the fullness of duty done, of effort made and self-sacrifice undergone. In the last analysis the welfare of the state depends absolutely upon whether or not the average family, the average man and woman and their children, represent the kind of citizenship fit for the foundation of a great nation; and if we fail to appreciate this we fail to appreciate the fullness of duty upon which all healthy civilization is based. No piled up wealth, no splendor of material growth, no brilliance of artistic development will permanently avail any people unless its home life is healthy, unless the average man possesses honesty, courage, common sense and decency, unless he works hard and is willing to need to fight hard; and unless the average woman is a good wife, a good mother, able and willing to perform the first and greatest duty of womanhood, able and willing to bear, and to bring up as they should be brought up, healthy children, sound in body, mind and character, and numerous enough so that the race shall increase and not decrease."

REVISION of the tariff in some form at the next session of Congress is considered certain, but probably on the wrong side, for the men who shape the policies of the republican party are said to be planning to deprive it of its old boast of "a free breakfast table" by putting a duty on coffee and tea. The excuse will be made that the duties will be used as a club to force reciprocity arrangements with Brazil and tea-growing countries, but the real purpose is to offset the reductions which will be made in some other schedules. It is proposed that the duty on coffee shall be three cents a pound and that coffee imported from Porto Rico and the Philippines shall be exempt.

THE IMMEDIATE answer of the Russian government to the demand at Mukden was the announcement that a new army will be raised and the forces in the far East reorganized; that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky would be ordered to sail on and try conclusions with Togo, and that the war would be prosecuted to the bitter end. This is the present temper of Emperor Nicholas and his dominant advisors voiced in a firm official announcement that the position of Russia is unchangeable, and the initiative for peace can only come from Japan. This is bold talk for a nation suffering as Russia is at present, but Russia is a country of wonderful resources and the fate of war is most uncertain.

IT WAS stated in the Gazette's Washington correspondence yesterday that a lady of Columbus, Ohio, created a mild sensation in the National Mothers' Congress in Washington that day when she declared that the mothers of Norwalk, Ohio, had become afflicted with a mania for card playing and gambling. So addicted had they become to the practice, she said, that they were neglecting their children and spending almost every afternoon at the card table. There is a strong suspicion that if the lady in question had said Alexandria, Virginia, instead of Norwalk, Ohio, but few mothers in Alexandria would have the temerity to deny the soft impeachment.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] Washington, D. C., March 14. The republican managers in the Senate are somewhat perturbed over the prospects for the ratification of the Santo Domingo treaty. There never has been any great amount of enthusiasm over it even on the republican side, and there are no indications that it has gained strength as the discussion progresses. It is even reported that the President himself is not so eager for it as he was, since he learned that the Santo Domingo bonds have increased in market value over one hundred per cent. from about 22 to 46, as a result of the negotiation of the protocol committing the United States to the management of the fiscal affairs of the island. While so far as known no republican Senator will actually cast his vote against ratification of the treaty, though support of it, in most cases, is half-hearted. The many amendments that have been adopted by the committee have made it less objectionable than the original document and the republicans will vote for it, if it should come to a vote, because it has been made a party question by the democrats. The limiting of the operation of the treaty to ten years has done much to strengthen the treaty. Without it, the United States would be committed to control of the Santo Domingo customs houses for a period of at least 30 years, for it would take that long to pay off the debts of the island under the plan proposed in the protocol. On the democratic side, there are three Senators who are said to be willing to vote for the treaty should their support be necessary to insure its ratification. They are Senators Stone, Newlands and McNary. Of the republican Senators Aldrich, who is in Europe; Knox, who is in Florida; and La Follette who is still governor of Wisconsin, have not taken the oath of office for the present term and therefore cannot be counted. Senators Burton and Mitchell can neither vote nor be paired. There are two republican vacancies, one in Missouri and one in Delaware. There is also one democratic vacancy caused by the death of Senator Bate. Under the circumstances it will take three democratic votes and Senator Knox's return to secure the ratification of the treaty by the necessary two-thirds majority. Another thing that is bothering the managers is the fact that Senators are becoming more and more anxious to return to their homes, and there is a danger that if the debate is extended much longer there will be no quorum left. Every effort will therefore be made to conclude consideration of the treaty this week. In some quarters it is suggested that the treaty should be postponed until the next session.

The President today among other sent the following nominations to the Senate: Geo. Barclay Rives, of New Jersey, to be Secretary of the Embassy at Vienna; Fenton W. Booth, of Illinois, to be Judge of the Court of Claims; Louis P. Summers, of Virginia, to be Collector of Internal Revenue of the 6th District of Virginia. To be Brigadier General: Col. Alfred C. Girard, Assistant Surgeon General, Lt. Col. Wm. H. Beck, Lt. Col. Frank W. Robinson, Lt. Col. Frank Taylor, Lt. Col. Samuel W. Fountain, Lt. Col. Edward Davis, Lt. Col. Chas. W. Hobbs, Maj. John L. Bullis, Col. James A. Buchanan. To be Lieutenants in the Marine Corps: Andrew B. Drumm, of Virginia, and Ralph S. Keyer, of Virginia.

Midshipman Milton W. Arrowood, United States navy, who recently deserted the navy because, in his opinion, "no Christian gentleman could remain an officer in the navy," has been found guilty of the charge of desertion by a naval court-martial and sentenced to be dismissed from the service. The case now comes before the Secretary of the Navy and then the President, whose action is necessary to make the findings of the court final.

Mrs. Lucia Gable Barber read a paper before the Mother's Congress this morning in which she discussed the "Real Woman." "We hear so many women complaining of their nerves," said Mrs. Barber. "The trouble lies in failure to control the nerves, and capitulation to them is woman's greatest fault."

Justice C. H. Duell, of the District Court of Appeals, today sustained the action of the lower court in deciding the case of Joseph Nazamab, a Chippewa Indian chief, vs. the Secretary of the Interior. An injunction was sought by the Chippewas preventing the Secretary of the Interior from carrying out an act of Congress establishing a forest reserve on the Chippewa reservation in Minnesota, which was authorized under an act of Congress of June 27, 1902. By a previous treaty with the United States, the Indians disposed of their lands to the United States under certain agreements for $3,000,000 which was to be held in a trust fund and draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. By the disposal of certain timber lands a forest reserve, valued at $1,000,000 would be deflected from this fund. The amendment providing for this forest reserve was held by the Indians to be unconstitutional and in direct violation of their treaty agreements. The Court of Appeals held that the lower court did not err and that Congress was the legal guardian of the Indians, the control and disposition of their lands being under the authority of that body and if any relief was to be sought by the Indians, Congress should be petitioned and not the judiciary.

A statement issued by the Department of Justice today says that the next chapter in the case of the Countess of Buena Vista versus General Brooke, is about to be recorded in the shape of an answer from the general to the recent court decision which the tribunal decided that the officer had destroyed the property of the noblewoman. The Countess of Buena Vista under the old Spanish regime in Cuba had a monopoly of the slaughter house business of Havana, a concession that she had inherited from her ancestors. General Brooke, as Governor of Cuba, abolished the Countess's right, and the court upheld her contention that he had destroyed her property contrary to the promise of the treaty of Paris which guaranteed property holders against such loss. The general's answer to the court's decision is to the effect that she should not have obeyed his order abolishing her monopoly, if such an order was unlawful, and if any subordinate officer had attempted to carry out the general's unlawful order, he, and not the general, would have been guilty of preventing the Countess from carrying on her business.

President Roosevelt today appointed a

"cumulative board" of architects to pass hereafter on all plans for government buildings within the District of Columbia. It is intended through the recommendations of the board "to bring about harmony of design in all future public buildings and conformity to an artistic system of improvement based on the original plans for laying out the Capital."

The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Charles W. Anderson, colored, to be collector of internal revenue for the second district of New York; also the following nominations: Alton G. Dayton, to be U. S. district judge for the Northern district of West Virginia; General Peter J. Osterhaus, to be brigadier general on the retired list; Charles H. Treat, of New York, to be treasurer of the United States; Edwin W. Sims, of Ill., to be solicitor for the Department of Commerce and Labor.

News of the Day.

Chief Justice Fuller yesterday announced that the Supreme Court would not take the usual spring recess of two weeks until April 2.

Daniel J. Sully, the former cotton king, received his discharge in bankruptcy in New York yesterday, and can start with a clean slate.

The Senate committee on finance yesterday reported favorably the nomination of Charles W. Anderson, colored, to be collector of internal revenue for the second district of New York.

The seventh street bridge over Los Angeles river fell at Los Angeles, Cal., yesterday, carrying with it into the flood-swollen river twelve to fifteen persons, two of whom are believed to have been drowned.

Plans have been practically perfected for a complete reorganization of the working force of the Panama canal commission, involving changes from top to bottom, and these probably will be announced in the course of a week.

A safe cracker who had broken into a number of stores and blown open safes had a duel with Policeman Barney Fay at Limestone, near Orleans, N. Y., at an early hour yesterday morning, and the robber was fatally shot, and died in the hospital later. The officer was not hit by the burglar. The burglar gave the name of Wilson, and his residence was Shabazburg.

He had just robbed the store of Patton & Son, and fuses and nitro-glycerine were found on him.

THE WAR.

The greater portion of the remnants of Kuropatkin's army has reached Tie Pass in a disorganized, exhausted condition. The rear guard is still suffering under the fire of the Japanese guns, and the wide eastward flanking movement begun by the Japanese before the battle is reported to be progressing. It is also feared in St. Petersburg that Japanese columns are moving north of Fokan in the Russian rear.

The defenses at Tie Pass are said to be incomplete, the food supply short and the ammunition or surrender of Kuropatkin's weakened army seems inevitable.

The announcement made in St. Petersburg Sunday, that a new army would be mobilized and sent to Manchuria and that the second Pacific squadron would be ordered to the far East, is said to be a bluff to force Japan to offer liberal terms for peace.

It is reported that Rojestvensky's squadron has been recalled. Every report received from Tokyo from the Japanese headquarters at the front tells of additional captures in the Sinkiang district. The Russian casualties were 20,000, and the Japanese captured 6 machine guns, 2,200 rifles and great quantities of ammunition and stores.

That Kuropatkin up to Sunday had lost nearly two-thirds of his army is now apparent. The Japanese took 20,000 prisoners on March 11. Kuropatkin reports that 50,000 men were wounded during the last few days. General Kuropatkin reports the Japanese are being continually reinforced.

The correspondent with General Kuruk's army, under Sunday's date, says the Russian casualties are at least 100,000; that the prisoners number 50,000 to 60,000 and that 70 guns have been captured.

The Japanese losses are no heavier than those in former great battles, General Kuruk's army losing only 5,000. General Kaubars left 25,000 prisoners in the hands of the Japanese.

Japanese officers report that hundreds of Russians, starving and wounded, are surrendering and begging shelter. The problem of transporting and caring for the prisoners is troubling the Japanese authorities much concerned.

It is reported that a secret agreement for peace will be negotiated between Russia and Japan direct, and a Russian official says that his government will be forced to ask for peace in view of Kuropatkin's defeat.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, March 14. SENATE. Owing to the early hour set for today's session of the Senate—11 o'clock—there was less than a quorum present when it was called to order. Fifteen minutes later, however, a sufficient number had arrived, and, on motion of Senator Cullen, the Senate went into executive session for the further consideration of the Santo Domingo treaty.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Proceedings of the Court of Appeals yesterday:

Davis's administratrix and others vs. Davis and others. Fully argued and submitted.

Next cases to be called:

Lawler and others vs. French, etc.; Williamson vs. Southern Railway Company and Mckens vs. Phillips, being Nos. 67, 68 and 69 on argument docket.

Mount Jackson Wet by One Vote.

The fight against granting saloon licenses in the town of Mount Jackson, made before the Circuit Court at Woodstock yesterday afternoon, was lost by the "drys" by the narrow margin of 1 vote. There are 96 qualified voters. Under the existing law for towns under 500 population, a petition of a majority of the qualified voters is necessary before a license can be granted. For the last 10 months no barrooms were licensed in Mount Jackson.

Race Suicide.

An address by President Roosevelt was the feature last night of the National Congress of Mothers, now holding its triennial convention at the Metropolitan M. E. Church, Washington. The President was formally introduced to the audience by Mrs. Frederic Schoff, of Philadelphia, the president of the congress. The family life was his text and in a vigorous discourse he declared that piled up wealth is of no avail if there is no real home. He said that the duty of husbands and wives is to bring up children sound in mind, body and character and so numerous that the race may increase. During his address he said:

"There are many good people who are denied the supreme blessing of children, and for these we have the respect and sympathy always due to those who, from no fault of their own, are denied any of the other great blessings of life. But the man or woman who deliberately forgoes these blessings, whether from viciousness, coolness, shallow-heartedness, selfishness, or mere failure to appreciate aright the difference between the all-important and the unimportant—why, such a creature merits contempt as hearty as any visited upon the soldier who runs away in battle, or upon the man who refuses to work for the support of those dependent upon him, and who, though able-bodied, is yet content to let in idleness the bread which others provide."

May Demand Eight-Hour Day.

That an eight-hour day may be among the demands to be made by the mine-workers of the anthracite region of Pennsylvania upon the expiration of the period covered by the award of the strike commission in 1906 is fore-shadowed in the decision of the executive boards of the three anthracite districts, in meeting at Hazleton, yesterday, to send out circulars to all the locals calling upon the men to remain idle Saturday and observe April 1, the anniversary of the adoption of the eight-hour schedule in the competitive bituminous coal field. One of the features of the celebration will be addresses by the officers and organizers on the significance of the occasion.

It was also decided by the executive boards to hold a joint convention of the miners of the anthracite districts some time before the next national convention. At the gathering the detailed demand of the union will be formulated. There has been no joint convention since the last strike, two years ago.

Before adjourning the executive boards made preparations for the visit of President Mitchell to the hard coal belt this spring. With Mitchell and the national organizers on the ground the mine-workers will in a few months have started their campaign for the contest ahead, a year hence.

The Lieutenant-Governorship.

In order to settle which of them shall run for the office of Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. James Alston Cabell made a proposition to Mr. J. Taylor Ellison, State Senator, that he should run for the office. Both candidates are from Richmond. In his public statement Mr. Cabell said:

"I wish it understood that I only became a candidate when I had reason to feel assured that Mr. Ellison would not run, which assurance was confirmed by his subsequent public declaration. The belated announcement of Mr. Ellison that he will now enter the race presents a complication not of my making, but the consequences of which I do not fear, nor do I intend to retire from the canvass that I have begun."

After deprecating any fractional divisions, Mr. Cabell made the following proposition:

"I will enter a primary of the democratic voters of Richmond with Mr. Ellison, half of the expenses of which I will personally pay, and agree that his candidacy or mine shall rest upon the choice of the people of the city in which we both live, to the end that Richmond may present to the State for the Lieutenant-Governorship the man her people want."

Held for Murder of Paramour.

Ellen Henry was arrested in her home, in Lynchburg, yesterday, charged with the murder of her paramour, Joe Wiggins. The two quarreled about midnight, and the throats of both were cut. The man ran barefooted in the night clothes up the street with blood pouring from his neck. He attempted to gain entrance to the Masonic hospital by breaking the glass of the front door, but fell at the foot of the steps, unable to talk, because his windpipe and vocal chords had been severed. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died an hour later. Nine stitches were taken in the woman's throat. She claims she was cut by the man. The police, however, believe the woman cut both in a fit of jealousy. Both are colored.

BURNING OF TENEMENT.

Nineteen Persons Lose Their Lives—Thrilling Scene—Heroic Rescue. New York, March 14.—Nineteen persons, men, women and children, had their lives snuffed out early this morning in a tenement fire in the Ghetto. Sixteen others were seriously injured by burns or falls. The scene of the fire was a double-decker tenement at No. 105 Allen street. A careless tenant left a lighted oil lamp on an empty paint barrel, standing in the lower hall. The lamp was upset, probably by a cat, setting fire to the barrel. The flames communicated to a paint store located in the building, and a quick and fierce fire followed.

Firemen and policemen heroically worked to save the tenants, more than a hundred in number, but they could not save all. When the flames were subdued, nineteen blackened and charred bodies were taken from the wrecked building, and carried to the yard of the Eldridge street police station, a block away. Here, all morning, hundreds of relatives and neighbors have viewed the remains for purposes of identification.

In ten minutes the scene of the fire was on the scene. When the engines arrived the flames had eaten their way through the stairways and all five floors were burning. The fire escapes, clogged with bedding and boxes, were swarming with panic and terror-stricken people. While the ladders were being raised, to effect their rescue, a blast of wind from the west sprang up, and the flames poured out of the windows onto the people on the fire escapes. Men and women jumped to the sidewalk and some were caught in the arms of the firemen. Women hurled their children to the street and leaped after them. The wind fell away again, and then came from the east, driving the fire out of the rear windows, where many were clinging awaiting help on the rear fire escape. Many jumped to the ground and were injured.

A human chain was formed by policemen and firemen and a score or more were rescued. Those who were clinging to the fire escapes on the top floors and did not jump, were slowly roasted and their cries were horrible to hear. They could not descend because the fire escapes were clogged with furniture and ash cans which had been left there by tenants in violation of law. A mother threw her babe at Policeman Wartalsky, and he caught it. Then she plunged after it, and fell upon Wartalsky's head. He was knocked unconscious. The woman was slightly burned but otherwise she and her baby escaped unhurt. In the rear scaling ladders were run up and many were taken down in the face of the great danger from the flames, which came out from the windows in angry tongues.

The firemen and the policemen with their faces and hands burned stood by their work and many times were forced to descend when their clothing caught fire.

One woman with her night attire blazing was seen to crawl from out of the flames and smoke on the top floor and start to creep down the fire escape. The hot iron of the escape blistered and charred her feet, but she made no outcry. She carefully removed the clogging ash cans and gradually worked her way down to where the firemen with scaling ladders were ready to save her. They were about to take her when a great surge of flames burst out of the window and enveloped the woman from her head to her feet. She fell back and was seen no more. No one knew her name. She was about 25 years old.

Two men and two women were seen to come down, and when almost within reach of the firemen found themselves caught in a barred fire escape and then fall a victim of the flames.

Many were seen to come to the windows and then fall back into the flames. The firemen did little to check the flames, except to keep them from spreading. They were too busy saving lives to attend to much else. The building was completely gutted.

Disorders in Russia.

Berlin, March 14.—A dispatch from Moscow states that rebellious peasants have plundered the estates of the Czar, Grand Dukes Vladimir and Nicholas and of Duke Alexander, of Oldenburg. The peasants burned the Czar's country residence in the vicinity of Nijni Novgorod. The course of their outbreak. The aggregate damage done to the imperial estates is estimated at $1,000,000. Count Voronoff Dashkoff has been appointed Viceroy to the Caucasus.

Kharkoff, Russia, March 14.—Nine shops and the Sussal arcade were destroyed today by fire, causing a loss of $500,000. Nine persons were injured. The official believe the fire was of incendiary origin. It is claimed that only 16,000 Russians are now engaged in the strike.

Berlin, March 14.—A dispatch from Moscow says that fifteen soldiers who refused to go to the war were court-martialed and shot within two hours after the trial.

Fatal Quarrel.

Huntington, W. Va., March 14.—During a quarrel over a piece of soap, in their cabin, near Welch, yesterday, "Bill" Thompson, fatally shot James Gaines. The latter grappled with Thompson, and a desperate fight ensued, resulting in Gaines cutting Thompson's throat from ear to ear. Suffering to his feet, Thompson, with the blood streaming from his own wounds, dragged the body of the dead man to the bank of Tug river and threw it in. He then crawled nearly a mile to the cabin of a neighbor, where he was taken and a doctor summoned. There is little or no hope of Thompson's recovery. Gaines and Thompson had been partners for years, having come to the West Virginia coal regions from Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WAR IN THE EAST.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—Although the general staff refuses to make public what the position of the Russian forces is, at present, there is now no reason to doubt that General Kuropatkin with approximately one hundred thousand men, has reached Tieling, safely. He is now engaged in erecting hasty fortifications to stem temporarily the advance of the victorious Japanese to bring order out of chaos. Optimists believe that General Field Marshal Oyama is not in a position to press a vigorous assault on Tieling, at present. It is believed he will find it necessary to reform his forces in front of the Russian defenses, before continuing operations. This will give General Kuropatkin the all important time needed to solidify his troops.

London, March 14.—Baron Haysashi, the Japanese Minister, here, has given out the following statement based upon dispatches received by him: "On the direction of His Imperial Highness the Emperor on March 11 occupied Yianghao, eighteen miles east of Fushun, driving the enemy therefrom. In the direction of the Shahrer river our forces in the various quarters continue driving the remnants of the enemy into the mountainous districts. In the section east of the Tieling road a considerable number of Russian officers and men came in and surrendered."

Birmingham, Eng., March 14.—The Post bears that an important dispatch regarding the possibility of peace was received today by Lord Lansdowne from M. Delcasse, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, based upon a special report from M. Compad, the French Ambassador to St. Petersburg. It is stated that communications are passing between London, Berlin, and Paris, with the object of finding a way out of the tragic impasse in Manchuria.

London, March 14.—Your correspondent is unable to secure the slightest confirmation of the optimistic peace reports emanating from Washington. Diplomats here say they have no information indicating an early end of hostilities. They add that the Washington view can hardly be more than that the war is farther off the thought and there is no reason to believe that any one except the Czar knows when the end will come. The present diplomatic view is that the Czar has not yet reached an unalterable resolution one way or the other, and that any opinion, either positive or negative, is merely a guess.

Paris, March 14.—It is announced semi-officially that the signing of the contract for the new Russian loan has been postponed, owing to the uncertainty of military events in Manchuria and of Russia's intentions respecting the continuance of the war.

Cordova's Trial.

New Brunswick, N. J., March 14.—The trial of J. P. Cordova, the sloping pastor, charged with seducing his wife and children, which was begun yesterday, was resumed at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Cordova, who took the stand in his own behalf late yesterday, was cross examined today by Prosecutor Berdine. Cordova upon being placed upon the stand followed the course adopted by Miss Rowne yesterday—she refused to answer most questions and was evasive, and his lawyers objected to every other interrogation put to their client. Much time was consumed in ruling upon the points raised, and Cordova's statement did not prove to be as interesting to the audience as had been anticipated. With his testimony the defense will rest their case. The summing up will then begin, and the charge to the jury will be delivered by Judge Stone. On the completion of this case, Cordova will be tried on the indictment charging him with having assaulted his wife.

The case will probably go to the jury about four o'clock. It is probable that the assault trial will not be moved till tomorrow. On the way back to the jail a photographer, in endeavoring to get a snapshot of Cordova, dropped a slide from the camera. Cordova thought it was a plate with his picture on it, and he jumped on it, and smashed it.

Burglars Captured. Westchester, Pa., March 14.—What is supposed to be the Main Line Gang of burglars was captured early this morning at Downingtown, while robbing the store of J. R. Hunter. Wilkes. There were four in the party, and they gave their names as Steven O'Donnell, Frank Bradley, Geo. Mack and Joseph Snyder of Philadelphia. During the chase after the robbers Snyder was badly shot in the side by Joseph Matthews, one of the pursuers. All four men were brought here to prison, having been committed under $500 bail each by Magistrate J. T. Carpenter, of Downingtown.

Marquis of Anglesey Dead. Nice, March 14.—The Marquis of Anglesey died here at 8 o'clock this morning. The cause of death was a complication of diseases—heart trouble. The Marquis of Anglesey (Henry Cyril Paget) owing to the eccentricities he affected, was a well known character throughout a great part of Europe. He was a modern Beau Brummell, and squandered a fortune on his dress and in satisfying his caprices. The Marquis was 29 years old. He was married in 1898 to Lillian Florence Maud, daughter of Sir George Chetwynd.

Police Commissary Killed. Vienna, March 14.—The police commissary with a number of soldiers at Ballystoke, on Thursday, forced their way into a meeting of workmen in the suburbs. The commissary aimed his revolver at the chairman of the meeting, but instantly a shot was fired and the official fell to the floor dead, a bullet having pierced his heart. Another police official and one soldier were killed and many were injured in the riot that followed. Fifty arrests have been made.

Locked House on Firemen. Harrisburg, Pa., March 14.—This morning the house of Mrs. Pauline Kiefer, of Middletown, caught fire. She is a collector of valuable relics and furniture. Fearing these might be carried off, she locked the doors on the firemen. They finally chopped a hole on the wall to fight the flames. The house is practically a wreck and the antiques are destroyed.

Attacked by a Mob and beaten in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon healed. "I have used it in my family," writes J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Strike Imminent.

Altoona, Pa., March 14.—One of the most important conventions of miners in the Eastern part of the United States opened here this morning, when 300 delegates, representing the 35,650 organized miners in the central Pennsylvania but bituminous field, opened their session here. The convention is important for the fact that the outcome of its deliberations may mean a gigantic strike, as for some time there has been a movement on foot among the coal operators, to create a sentiment for wage reduction, which the miners hold is not justified, and will, therefore resist to the bitter end. The real struggle will begin when the miners meet in joint conference with the operators Tuesday next, to consider the scale.

Death From Gas Explosion.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 14.—Mrs. Jacob Bitter is dead and Amelia Hopkins is dying at St. Francis Hospital, the result of a gas explosion this morning at No. 516 Breed's Hill. New York Stock Market.

New York, March 14.—The speculation in stocks this morning opened active and excited and for a time advanced rapidly. The activity in the railroad department tended to divert attention from the industrial list, and there was little feature there or in the local traction group. The market was quiet place soon after the opening and the general list developed irregularly. There were losses in the oil and sugar markets. The market at the beginning of the session was feverish and unsettled, but there appeared to be good buying on all the reactions.

Tug Fleet Discharged.

The river now being clear of ice the fleet of tug employed by harbor master John B. Sutton, of Washington, has been dismissed after being in the service ten days. The captain, and crews of the various tugs, says Commodore Sutton, displayed the greatest zeal and enthusiasm in their work, and deserve warm commendation. Harbor-master Sutton yesterday laid before Commissioner Macfarland, in charge of the river front, a report on the work of clearing the river of ice: "The great thickness of the ice formed during one of the coldest of winters," he said, "made the work of breaking it the most difficult encountered in all my experience of twenty-three years, and there is no doubt that for the prompt action of your honorable body and of Congress, concerning the appropriation, the lower sections of Washington would have been flooded and considerable damage to property have resulted. It is hoped and believed that due appreciation and commendation of your action will be accorded by all business interests."

The Approaching Fishery.

The mild, fair and springlike weather of yesterday and today has been a harbinger of the fishing season. Vessels are now leaving with supplies for the shores and gilliers are preparing their nets. Within the next week or ten days "drifts" will have been made. Shad and herring have not as yet shown themselves in the Potomac, but their advent is at hand. Local fishermen report satisfactory results, large numbers of black bass, yellow perch and catfish being caught. The hucksters continue to display fine varieties of fish in market. The shad and herring are from southern rivers. Roe shad sell at $1 each, buck at 50a60c and herring at 40c a dozen. Black bass and trout bring 15c a pound and had dock 10c. A few terrapins are on the market. They bring 25a50c cents each.

Election of Lieutenant.

There was a meeting of the Alexandria Light Infantry last night, at which Mr. Charles Pierpont was elected second lieutenant to fill a vacancy. The names of Mr. Pierpont and Mr. Frank C. Spinks, Jr., were placed in nomination, and three ballots were taken. On the first ballot Mr. Pierpont received 39 votes and Mr. Spinks 9; on the second it stood Pierpont, 40, and Spinks 3, and on the third the election of the former was made unanimous. At another meeting tonight the company will be inspected by Col. Joe Lane Stern.

It has subsequently been learned that Mr. Pierpont will decline the position tendered him, as he is contemplating removing from the city, and after the inspection tonight another election for lieutenant will be held.

Steamer Fined.

Under instructions from Secretary Metcalf, of the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, Collector Causton has advised the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company of the imposition of $22,000 fine on account of the sailing of the steamer Arkadia without having cleared. The steamer Arkadia was refused clearance papers by the collector of customs at San Juan on February 23 because she had on board 11 officers and 317 men of the Porto Rico regiment coming to the inauguration of President Roosevelt, while her inspection certificate allowed her to carry only forty passengers. The Arkadia passed this city on her return to Porto Rico about a week ago.

Horse and Wagon Stolen.

A horse and wagon belonging to Geo. West was stolen last night from the corner of King and Royal streets. Officers Roberts and Young were quickly notified and they followed so closely in his wake that the thief left the horse and wagon in front of a lumber yard on Union street. The officers returned the horse and wagon to their owner. It was found that a blanket had been stolen. It is supposed that the thief intended to remove the harness from the horse and make way with it. Later the blanket was found in the street and returned to its owner, the thief having discarded it when he realized the officers were on his track.

Smallpox.

A colored man named Stephen Davis, who said he had walked from Manassas, appeared in this city yesterday evening about 8 o'clock, and at about 9 o'clock last night called on Dr. Gorman, the health officer, for treatment, saying he was sick. Dr. Gorman pronounced the ailment as a light case of smallpox and after some trouble secured lodging for him at the home of Matilda Morton, colored, at the extreme end of south Fairfax street, where the man is now guarded and being treated. As above stated the case is a very light one and no fear is entertained of the spread of the disease.

Sent to Grand Jury.

Hillary Brown, colored, who was arrested on suspicion of setting fire to a stable in the western section of the city last Saturday night, was again brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning. At yesterday's hearing Sarah Gibson, colored, identified the prisoner as the man she saw emerging from the premises before the fire broke out, and this morning the woman's mother was placed on the stand and she also swore she saw him leave a few minutes before the alarm was sounded. Justice Caton sent the prisoner on to the grand jury.

Suspected of Stealing a Gun.

Albert Stewart, colored, living at 611 south Alfred street, who is confined to the house by illness, was attended a day or two ago by a doctor who said he lived in Leesburg. After he left a double-barreled breech-loading gun was found to be missing, and there was every reason to believe the doctor had taken it away with him. The police were notified and they are looking for the disciple of Esculapius. The officers have a description of the doctor, who, it is said, wears a Roosevelt button.

The Southern Railway has lost just thousands of dollars recently on account of cars being broken open and robbed of merchandise in transit while the trains were in Charlotte, N. C. On Sunday night the police of the city arrested two negroes, who are thought to be the leaders of the gang of thieves. In the possession of one of these negroes, John Harris, was forty-eight quart bottles of whisky. Everett Crawford, the other negro under arrest, had numerous articles concealed in his home that had been taken from cars passing through Charlotte. It is conservatively estimated that the Southern Railway has lost $50,000 by car thieves within the city limits of Charlotte since the last of last December.

The Cordova Case.

Miss Bowan's appearance in court in New Brunswick, N. J., yesterday in the trial of former minister Cordova, made a sensation, causing Cordova to break down and weep. As she passed Cordova on the way to the witness stand the two clasped hands for an instant, despite the stern order of the court officers. "Stop that," "Be brave, my sweet," Cordova whispered to her. He looked over and they seemed about to embrace, but court officials hustled her into the witness stand. There she pretended to forget the incidents of her flight with the pastor and the attempt of the prosecuting attorney to get a confession from her was a patent failure. All incidents in connection with her relations with the prisoner seemed to have vanished from the young woman's mind. Julia Bowan's palpable attempt at evasion aroused the suspicions of the audience. They laughed in the face of the young girl. They jeered at her and they sneered as she passed them by to her cell in the jail.

Denial From Mr. Willard.

A statement is being circulated throughout the State in printed form saying that Mr. Joseph E. Willard, candidate for governor, pays a total tax of $224.00 on his property in Fairfax county and no income tax. Mr. Willard has just made a reply, which is substantiated by the Fairfax county records. He shows that losses sustained during the years 1901, 1902, 1903, and 1904 left him no net income. The value of his property, he says, has been greatly exaggerated. It consists largely of unimproved real estate in Washington left him by his father, the value of which was comparatively small, and less than $500,000 personal property. He shows how he has borrowed money to improve this property in Washington, and that his income therefrom is now increasing yearly. The first dividend is has been declared by the company operating the New Willard, which increases his income for this year.

Murderer Found under the Floor.

Samuel Stanley, who shot and killed Walker Austin January 28 last, at Waynesboro, Franklin county, was captured by the sheriff of Franklin and a posse Sunday in his own home, at Ferrum, not far from the scene of the killing. Stanley was taken to the county jail at Rocky Mount. After killing Austin, Stanley made his escape and defied arrest. A reward of $500 was offered for him. The sheriff and his posse went to Stanley's home Sunday evening and instituted a thorough search of the premises. They were about to abandon the effort when one of the party stepped on a loose plank in the floor of the attic. The board was removed and Stanley was found concealed between the attic floor and the ceiling of the lower room. He was armed, but offered no resistance. Stanley was a section master on the Norfolk and Western Railway.

Attempted to Kill Pastor at Norfolk.

While Rev. George D. Jamerson, pastor of Emmanuel Church, in Portsmouth, was conducting services in his church last night, the sexton informed him that a stranger wanted to see him at the parsonage, which adjoins the church. As soon as possible Mr. Jamerson went out of the church toward the parsonage, and as he neared the door, a strange negro stepped out of a dark shadow and fired two shots point blank at the preacher's head. Police Officer Bishop, who was near by, rushed to the preacher's assistance when he heard the shots, but no clew to the assailant could be found. Early Saturday morning an unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize the home of the Rev. Mr. Jamerson, but the preacher frightened the burglar away by firing a load of buckshot at him.

Cost of British Army.

The British army estimates for 1905-6, just issued, total $149,065,000, an increase of $4,915,000 over the last estimates.

The increase is due to the provision of $6,965,000 for the rearmament of the artillery. Otherwise there would have been a decrease. The estimates provide for a total force, home and colonial and exclusive of India, of 231,300 men. The expenditure for the North American and West Indies stations is estimated at $3,125,810.
